INTRODUCTION.

THE numerous advantages received from Dispensaries, by that useful part of Society, the Poor, are such arguments in favour of these Institutions, that instead of a Plan, formed on a scale more extensive than preceding ones, and with a view more effectually to administer to the necessities of the indigent, being censured, it must claim the attention of every good member of the community.

Useful as the Plans of other Dispensaries have been found, yet they labour under a limitation which has been lamented by many, and and to remedy which, is the great object of the noble Founders and liberal Subscribers to this Charity.

With this view they mean to introduce Inoculation to all ages, at proper seasons of the year, whereby the Infant Poor as well as the Aged, may hereafter be relieved from the fears of a distemper, naturally cruel, and oftentimes fatal, and walk the active paths of life without the danger of meeting an enemy hardened against the cries of distress and the tears of an indigent family.

The situation of the Dispensary, in a neighbourhood so large and populous, is a reason not only presumptive of its utility, but also convincing.

A great part of the inhabitants who are in want of Medical assistance, are the families of our Soldiery, a body of men, useful, necessary, and worthy of encouragement, and who from the smallness of their allowance, can scarcely provide the common conveniences of life, much less obtain the advice and relief necessary in the season of affliction: indeed their peculiar hardships have often employed ployed the pen of the humane in their favour, and extorted the tear of commiseration at their misfortunes.

This particular advantage annexed to those others which are common to these kind of institutions, such as the best of advice and medicine, the attention paid to the patients at their respective habitations, united with the tender concern of their relations and friends when they are unable to attend the Dispensary, must give this a manifest superiority over those noble foundations deservedly the praise of our kingdom, where the invalid is separated from his dearest connections, and becomes a prey to melancholy and despair.

Anxious to extend its usefulness as far as possible, and to induce the benevolent to enter warmly into the views of this Charity, the Founders of it intend going one step further, and besides providing the Patients with Medicine, they mean to indulge them with wine and nourishment under certain regulations, when the nature of their complaint requires this additional assistance; and those whose views in life or charitable inclinations have led them to the threshold of sickness, sickness, will find this improvement on so beneficial a plan, absolutely necessary, and calculated to administer inconceivable comfort to the afflicted.

With these advantages, and under the following regulations, the Founders of this Charity may surely be pardoned if they flatter themselves with success. They call upon a generous Public to give this Institution their support, and to reflect upon the conscious satisfaction they will feel in performing those united duties, which, as Men and as Members of Society, they are expected to discharge.

REGULATIONS.

I.

THIS Charity to be conducted by a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, and Governors, with such Officers as may be found necessary.

II.

A Subscriber of one, two, three, or more guineas per annum, constitutes a Governor; who is entitled to have one patient constantly on the books for each guinea subscribed, and a vote at an election, or on any matter that concerns the Charity.

III.

Ten guineas at one payment, or such as make up their last Subscription within the year to that sum, shall be Governors for life, with the privilege of having one patient constantly on the books.

IV. Twenty

IV.

Twenty guineas at one payment, or such as make up that sum within the year, shall be Governors for life, and have two patients constantly on the books.

V.

Upon the payment of a legacy of fifty pounds, or upwards, to this Charity, the person appointed to pay the same shall be deemed a Governor for life; and for a less sum for one year, from the time of such payments.

VI.

Every Governor, on paying his or her Subscription, is requested to take a receipt for the same; and will be furnished with proper letters of recommendation, which they are desired to sign, to prevent improper advantages being taken of the Charity.

VII.

Such Governors who may be absent from town, may appoint any other person to sign his letter of recommendation; first giving notice thereof in writing at the Dispensary.

VIII.

A General-Meeting will be held on the first Thursday in the months of January, April, July, and October; at which Meeting seven Governors shall be deemed a competent number to proceed upon business.

COMMITTEE.

IX.

Twenty-one Governors shall be chosen at the first General-Meeting, who shall form a Committee, to meet at the Dispensary on the third Thursday in every Month, for conducting the affairs of this Charity, seven of whom will go out by rotation annually. This Committee to be open to the President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Governors for life, who shall be entitled to vote : three of them shall form a quorum.

No person interested in any matter under debate shall be entitled to vote at any Meeting or Committee of the Governors of this Charity.

The last Committee in December shall nominate proper persons to succeed the seven who go out by rotation : this nomination tion to be subject to the approbation or alteration of the next General-Meeting.

X.

At every General-Meeting the Committee shall deliver a report of their proceedings during the three last Months, signed by the Chairman, which shall be publicly read by the Secretary, for the consideration of the Governors then present.

XI.

No bye-law, rule, order, or resolution, made by the Committee, shall be binding, or have any force or effect, until the same be agreed to and confirmed by a General-Meeting. The same method to be observed in altering or repealing any bye-law, rule, or order.

XII.

The President, Vice-Presidents, and Treasurer, or either of them, the Committee, or any five of them, or any ten of the Governors, have power at any time to call a General-Meeting, by sending notice in writing, signed by their name or names, to the Secretary, and expressing the business of such

such Meeting : and the Secretary shall give at least four days notice thereof, in any three of the daily papers.

XIII.

The President, Vice-Presidents, and Treasurer, or either of them, the Committee, or any three of them, may call a Meeting of the Committee at any time, by sending notice in writing to the Secretary, signed with their name or names, and expressing the purpose of such meeting; who thereupon shall give at least three days notice thereof, by a circular letter to the Members of the Committee.

XIV.

In case of the sickness, death or resignation of any officer, or any other circumstances or accidents which may prevent his attendance, the President, Vice-Presidents, or Treasurer, or either of them, shall be empowered to appoint any other person to officiate in his stead, till the next Meeting of the Monthly Committee, who shall either approve of such appointment, or nominate any other person to act until (if it be a vacancy) the time of election.

XV. In

XV.

In case of a vacancy of any officer of this Charity, the Treasurer shall, within seven days afterwards, cause a Meeting of the Monthly Committee to be called; which Committee shall appoint a day for a General-Meeting to fill up such vacancy.

XVI.

Not more than one month, nor less than a fortnight, shall be allowed from the declaration of any vacancy to the day of election.

XVII.

The election of Officers of this Charity shall be by ballot, determined between the hours of ten in the morning and three in the afternoon of the same day.

XVIII.

Nobility, Ladies, Members of Parliament, and Gentlemen residing or being out of town at the time of election, shall have the privilege of voting by proxy.

XIX.

Five auditors shall be annually elected from among the Committee, at the General Quarterly Meeting of January, to examine all all the bills and accounts of the preceding year; and no interested person shall be on the audit. The report of which auditors shall be delivered in to the Meeting next following their appointment.

XX.

A Medical Committee, consisting of three persons, shall be chosen by the General-Meeting held annually in January, out of such Governors as practise Physic, Surgery, or Pharmacy, or are conversant in the knowledge of drugs and medicines, who shall have full power to inspect the drugs and medicines, examine the bills for the same, and to make their report to the Committee, as they find occasion, who shall afterwards report the same to the next General-Meeting for their consideration.

XXI.

If any Officer of this Charity shall accept of any tradesman, patient, or others, any reward or gratuity, directly or indirectly, he shall be immediately discharged.

XXII.

The Officers of the Charity are to attend the General-Meetings and Committees, to give

give such information, and do such business as may be required.

XXIII.

All Accidents will be attended to by the Surgeon (at all times) and consultations will be held on all dangerous cases.

XXIV.

At a proper season of the year, when the Physician and Surgeon shall think it right, persons of all ages may be inoculated for the Small-Pox, at the Dispensary, from whence they shall be supplied with proper medical assistance.

XXV.

No Patient, on any pretence whatever, shall presume to come to the Dispensary when the Small-Pox appears, as he or they will be attended at their own habitations, by the Physician or Surgeon.

XXVI.

There shall be an Anniversary Dinner, between the 2d of April and the 2d of May, on a day to be appointed by the Monthly Committee, when a state of the Charity shall be laid before the Governors.

FORM of a WILL recommended.

ITEM, I give and bequeath unto A. B. and C. D. the sum of to be raised and paid by and out of my personal estate and effects, which by law I may or can charge with the payment thereof, upon trust, and to the intent that they, or either of them, shall and do pay the same to the Treasurer (for the time being) of a Charity, called or known by the name of the WESTERN DISPENSARY, for the relief of the Poor, there, or at their own habitations, and for the encouragement of Inoculation; which Charity was instituted in the year 1789, and is now kept in Charles-Street, Westminster, and which sum I desire may be applied towards carrying on the benevolent designs of the said Charity.

N. B. Giving land, or money, or stock, by will, with directions to be laid out in the purchase of any estate for the benefit of this charity, will be void by the statute of Mortmain: but money or stock may be given by will, without being directed to be laid out.

PHYSICIAN.

PHYSICIAN.

The Physician is to attend at the Dispensary, precisely at half past ten o'clock, every day (Sundays excepted) to give advice to such Out-Patients as come properly recommended; and afterwards to visit the Home-Patients at the places of their abode, as the case may require.

If the Physician, from indisposition or any other cause, be incapable of attending, he must provide some other Physician to attend in his stead; of which he must always give notice to the Apothecary, who must inform the President, a Vice-President, or the Treasurer thereof, so that they, or either of them, may approve of the person so appointed, or nominate another to officiate as his substitute, till the next Monthly Committee.

SURGEON.

The Surgeon is to attend at the Dispensary, every day, precisely at half past ten o'clock (Sundays excepted) for the purpose of examining and relieving Out-Patients, and afterwards to visit the Home-Patients, at their own habitations.

The

The same regulations are to be observed in case of the indisposition or absence of the Surgeon, as are before-mentioned with respect to the Physician.

A P O T H E C A R Y.

He is constantly to reside at the Dispensary, to compound and dispense the medicines prescribed by the Physician and Surgeon. He is to enter the tradesmen's bills in a ledger, and keep the accounts respecting the same.

He is to examine the letters of recommendation, and keep regular books, with a register of the patients under cure, their time of admission, by whom recommended, and when discharged; the Governors may at any time inspect these books, and they are always to be laid before the Committee, at their meetings. He is to take care of the medicines, utensils, and other effects of the Dispensary, and see that none be wasted, spoiled, or embezzled; and to see that all the apartments are always in order fit for the reception of the officers of the Charity.

He is not to absent himself from the Dispensary on any account whatever, without leaving a note where he may be found, or taking

taking care that a proper assistant be there until he returns; nor is he to absent himself one whole day or night, without leave from the President, Vice-President, the Treasurer, or Monthly Committee; and in such case, he is to procure another Apothecary to officiate in his stead, who must be approved of by the person giving him such leave.

He is not to practise as an Apothecary, except in the business of the charity.

He is to be present at all Meetings and Committees, at the appointed hours, unless necessarily prevented; in which case he is to send a deputy.

He is to keep the proceedings of the Charity in a methodical manner, and in proper books, and do all such business as is requisite.

C O L L E C T O R.

He is to find two securities (to be approved of by the Monthly Committee) to be bound with him in a bond of 500*l*. for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

He must keep a perfect list of the Governors, and regularly collect the subscriptions to the Charity, as they become due, and pay the same to the Treasurer, on the last Friday of every month, or oftener, if required. And in case of the absence of the Treasurer, he is to pay the money to such person whom the Treasurer shall authorize to receive the same.

He is never to retain in his possession to the amount of fifty pounds more than seven days, on pain of being discharged.

He shall summon Committees, deliver commendatory letters when he collects the Subscriptions, and attend all General Meetings, Committees, &c.

P A T I E N T S.

No persons are to be deemed objects of this Charity, but such as are really necessitous.

The Dispensary to be open from nine till twelve in the morning, and from two till four in the afternoon.

All Patients, from whatsoever place they may come, if properly recommended, shall be prescribed for, and furnished with medicines, provided they attend at the proper hours.

Patients may be visited at their own habitations, if they reside within the limits of the the Dispensary, which are from Westminster-Bridge to Chelsea-Bridge, including Sloane-Street, Pimlico, Piccadilly, through Covent-Garden, down Drury-Lane, to the Strand.

The proper hours for Patients to come for advice are from nine till half past ten in the morning, every day (Sundays excepted). And if any person neglects to attend the Physician or Surgeon for ten days successively, such Patient shall be discharged.

Those that require only a repetition of medicines, must apply for them at the Dispensary, between the hours of two and four in the afternoon.

Such Patients (living within the districts) as are unable to attend personally, must send their letters of recommendation by some adult person to the Dispensary, who will be furnished with proper medicines, and the Physician or Surgeon will attend them at their places of abode when necessary.

They must furnish themselves with phials, and other things necessary to contain their medicines; they are to behave themselves decently and soberly, and to conform to such rules as are given them, or be immediately dismissed.

The

The Patients when cured, are to deliver their letters of recommendation at the Dispensary, and receive a letter of thanks, which they are to present to the Governor who recommended them: and if any neglect to do so, they shall not be admitted to any future benefit from this Charity.

Other privileges will be granted when the Plan is more fully established, such as Wine, Porter, Sago, &c. &c.
